RENT vs PURCHASE

Every business recognises the importance of reducing cost.

When a large purchase is made it often has a noticeable impact on the cash resources of a company.

Renting and leasing are solutions which ease the burden of a large cash outflow and help a business establish itself.

Alsco has been providing textile rental services for over one hundred years, and can bring this expertise to your business.

Alsco is a leader in developing and implementing new procedures to improve the rental process for clients, includ-ing bar-coded items to maximise accuracy and personal garment lockers to provide employees with a secure person-al space for their uniforms.

By selecting the right uniform supplier, employee uniforms and garments can be a simple, but effective way to in-crease plant hygiene and reduce cross-contamination.

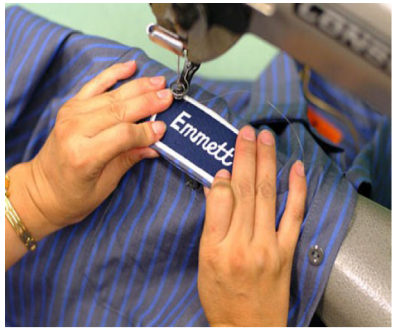
There are many systems that can be implemented to make it easier for workers to perform their jobs in a safe, secure and sanitary manner — and pay dividends in the long run.

Alsco understands that uniforms can be a potential point of cross-contamination to any food processor and should be an integral part of a plant's HACCP program.

WHY USE ALSCO UNIFORMS AND WORKWEAR?

Few managers dispute the fact that a quality uniform is the number one way to protect employees from heavy soil, dirt, grease and grime, or to present a crisp, clean, dignified image to customers. Today Alsco has literally millions of customers of all siz-es around the world who have come to rely on us to make them look better and operate more efficiently with a Garment Rental Program.

Benefits of Managed Garment System



1. Ready for use
2. Collection
3. Specialised washing and handling
4. Delivery

GARMENT TRACKING

Our customers receive a simple, fail-proof method of tracking and monitoring the movement of garments in and out of their premises and invoicing them accordingly.

Alsco has invested in the latest UHF RFID chips. They hold a unique number that is assigned to individual garments. Once the number is allocated, the system stores the following information:

- Wearer or Pool Name
- Account name
- Department
- Garment style and size
- Garment age
- Number of washes
- Last pick-up and delivery

SUPPLY STOCK

Each managed garment wearer will be issued with sufficient circulating stock to ensure they have clean uniforms available for the start of each shift. For example, if a wearer requires 5 changes of clean garments per week, Alsco will issue that wearer with an inventory of 11.

The reason why we invest in that level of inventory is to keep 5 in lockers, 5 in the laundry and one being worn. You will then simply be invoiced the unit price per garment multiplied by the agreed number of changes per week.

This managed personalised garment system provides you with the following services inclusive of the unit price per garment;

- Sufficient inventory of the garment;
- Correct sizing and fitting of current and new employees;
- Every garment laundered to AS4146:2000 or better;
- Delivery of clean garments into personalized lockers;
- Removal of soiled garments;
- Specific wearer UHF RFID chip labelling;
- Repairs undertaken when necessary;
- Garment replacements that are due to wear and tear;
- Size changes on garments when necessary;
- Soiled garment bins;
- General tidying of change rooms;
- Management reporting;
- Overall system management.
